

Text N°3: Education is the Best Investment

Education is the major necessity of life in the present era and it is the need of today because without it, the survival of human being is inevitable. People do not consider education as the most significant need of today and give several obligations more preference. The investment made in education is the most productive and everlasting in nature because its tenure and its 5 existence is not compressed and restricted in any time frame and if an individual gives investment in education, it is the most beneficial investment in all life.

The investments which involve the exchange of money and wealth is very less beneficial as compared to the investment made in education; this is because the investment which involves the monetary barter system is very short duration and at the same time, it consists of mental and 10 physical torture and exertion. But when the investment in education is being made; it provides mental and eve physical comfort too because one can lead a very successful and a very pleasing life if he or she has the treasure of knowledge and the power of education with them. One should think very seriously and very positively as far as their education is concerned because it is the best source through which one can make their life stable in this very harsh and competitive
15 world. Investment in education is comprised of investment in acquiring higher education, getting specialized in the respective fields; this is people should not take this threat under consideration that whether this major investment will pay or not whether this investment will go in vain, for such people let me make sure that the investment in education will never go in vain because it is that investment which will pay off you in your entire life at all the phases and 20 circumstances because no one can ever restrict or define limitations of the education as this wealth of an individual is beyond all the limitations.

So those people who are fetching the sources in which they should make their investment should stop for a moment and think that whether they are investing in, the right cause and the right direction should be their investment in the greatest wealth and treasures of the world which is 25 the education.
